BELIEVES ACTION TAKEN ILLEGAL

Senators Declare Hitchcock's Withdrawal of Lands Without Authority of Law.

REPORT MADE TO SENATE

RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING INDIAN TERRITORY.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The select committee of the senate appointed during the last session of congress to investigate conditions in Indian Territory, made its report today to the senate through its chairman, Senator Clark of Wyoming. The committee's recommendations may be summarized as follows:

That the surface of the 500,000 acres of coal lands segregated in 1902 be sold, but that the mineral rights be indefinitely retained as the property of the Indians.

That all restrictions be removed from the surplus lands of all citizens of the five civilized tribes except miners.

That the restrictions as to homesteads of the members of the tribes who are not of Indian blood, including intermarried whites and freed men, be removed.

That the restrictions on the homesteads of Indians of either full or mixed blood should be retained.

Oil and Gas Leases.

That, with reference to all oil and gas leases, the regulation requiring a deposit of $500 by lessees should be modified or dispensed with; that leases may be allowed without requiring the consent of the secretary of the interior, and that some tribunal in the territory be authorized to perform this service, and that the regulations governing pipe lines be so modified as to permit the construction of new lines.

The surface land in the 500,000-acre coal land segregation is estimated to be worth from $9 to $15 an acre, and the mineral rights from $5 to $40 an acre. On the question of the disposal of this tract, which has been the subject of much comment, the committee recommends:

Sale of Surface Lands.

"That no immediate action be taken by congress as to the leasing or sale of the mineral in said lands, but that immediate steps be taken to provide for the sale of the surface of said segregation for the best price obtainable, in tracts not exceeding 100 acres each, to actual bona fide settlers, reserving from sale a sufficient amount of surface for the necessary outside works, buildings and operations of mines." The committee expresses its conviction "that by dealing thus separately with the surface and the mineral, the best price can be obtained for the owners, and the best results will accrue to the state and its people."

The committee believes that Secretary Hitchcock's withdrawal of land for forest purposes was without authority of law.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and entirely safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it distends the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. They are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics, in tablet form, or, rather, in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, a great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and to clear the system, to purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by their use. They cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent medicine, I believe I can get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

DR. T. B. BEATTY TALKS ON HEALTH

Advocates Laws for Prevention of Infectious Diseases Among Children.

Dr. T. B. Beatty, secretary of the state board of health, addressed the principals of the Salt Lake public schools at the Fremont school yesterday afternoon, on the effects of eye, ear and throat afflictions on the mental development of the student. The talk of Dr. Beatty was not in the nature of a medical lecture, but dealt with the need of legislative measures to aid in the prevention of disease in the schools.

He said at the present session of the legislature three bills will be introduced which, if made laws, will in his opinion be effective to a considerable degree in reducing the illness among children and advancing the intellectual standard of pupils.

One of these measures is a bill to introduce an examination by specialists of all pupils attending public schools to ascertain whether or not they are afflicted with any eye, ear or throat trouble, and to provide for the treatment of all those found to have defective eyesight, difficulty in hearing or bronchial trouble.

Another measure has for its object the introduction of a course of study in all eight grades, high schools and normal schools of the state dealing with the cause and prevention of disease. The purpose is to make the new course supplant the somewhat unsatisfactory study of physiology.

The third bill was one that was killed in the committee of the legislature a year ago. It provides for the establishment of a school for the feeble-minded.

Dr. Beatty called attention to the fact that a great many pupils are apparently dull and listless in school when in reality they are bright children. He said the apparent mental deficiency was probably due to the inability of the scholar to see and hear correctly. In a great many cases he said this condition was produced by an adoid which affected both the eye and the ear.

"Many children," said Dr. Beatty, "are condemned as dependent members of society through no fault of theirs. Adoids when discovered in children are easily removed, but if neglected lead to defective vision, deafness and lack of mental development."

Dr. Beatty showed the principals a chart which he proposed to introduce into the schoolrooms of the state to aid the teachers in examining the eyesight of the pupils. He said these tests have been adopted by the schools of all the principal cities of the country and show the startling result that nearly thirty-five per cent of the school children have defective eyesight.

Prevention of Disease Should Be Taught.

In speaking of the bill to establish the new line of study in the higher grades of the public schools, Dr. Beatty said that one-fifth of the deaths could be prevented if people only knew how. He said it is a duty the present generation owes the children of today the fundamental facts regarding the cause and prevention of disease that they will be able to successfully cope with the unsanitary conditions that breed disease.

To illustrate the need of such instruction he called attention to the location of a radiator in the room in which the meeting was being held, which was within a few feet of the seats of several pupils.

"That radiator," he said, "will boil, fry or freeze anyone within several feet of it, yet, I presume, pupils sit beside it every day and night and go out into the cold. It is one of the most dangerous things in connection with the schools. No education at all is better than that sort of education."

"The discovery that the source of tuberculosis was in a specific disease germ soon led to its prevention, and I predict that within twenty-five years the terrors of consumption will be a thing of the past."

"What is true of consumption is true of almost all other infectious diseases. They all originate with a specific disease germ and conditions favorable to the transmission of these bacilli should be done away with."

School for Feeble-Minded Needed.
Dr. Beatty then called attention to the need of a school for the feeble-minded in Utah. He said that the teachers in the schools should take a census of the number of feeble minded pupils attending school.

"These children are absolutely incurable," he continued, "and it is clearly the duty of the state to care for them. There is no place for them, either in the reform school or the insane asylum, and the only solution of the problem is to establish a school that will train them to work with their hands and make them in a measure self-supporting."

Following the talk by the doctor the teachers discussed the points covered by Dr. Beatty.

CRACK SHOTS AT FORT.

Results of Last Year's Target Practice Are Announced.

The classified result of last year's target practice in the Department of the Colorado has been received at Fort Douglas. The general figure merit for the department was 74.94 per cent, an increase in marksmanship over the preceding year of 16.44 per cent.

First Lieutenant Will H. Point, Twenty-ninth Infantry, stationed at the fort, leads among the commissioned officers of the department in rifle firing with 81.51 per cent. Captain Robert H. Allen of the regiment comes next with a score of 77.67. First Lieutenant R. P. Timberlake, Jr., made 73.33 and Lieutenant B. E. Grey, Captain H. C. Clement, Jr., leads in dismounted pistol shooting with an average of 86.

Among the enlisted men who head the regimental list as expert riflemen are Private Emil Meyers, company A; Assistant Albert C. Webb, company G; Sergeant Elmer J. Harris, company E; First Sergeant O. T. Webster and Sergeant Erickner, company F.

The troops at the fort are now blazing away at winter target practice. This shooting is conducted in heavy marching order, furs and Arctic overcoats, rain or shine, snow or no snow, in fact it may be called a contest against weather conditions.

COSTLY PRESSURE.

Heart and Nerves Fail on Coffee.

A resident of a great western state puts the case regarding stimulants with a comprehensive brevity that is admirable. He says: "I am 56 years old and have had considerable experience with stimulants. They are all alike—a mortgage on reserved energy at ruinous interest. As the whip stimulates, but does not strengthen the horse, so do stimulants act upon the human system. Feeling this way, I gave up coffee and all other stimulants and began the use of Postum Food coffee some months ago. The beneficial results have been apparent from the first. The rheumatism that I used to suffer from has left me, I sleep sounder, my nerves are steadier and my brain clearer. And I bear testimony also to the food value of Postum—something that is lacking in coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.
